TIMELESS CHIC

A Statuario marble counter and backsplash that runs right to the ceiling create a luxe envelope. Brass edges on the cherry cabinet doors are an Art Deco-inspired touch and double as pulls.

Theresa Casey TORONTO

THE DISH: This jewel box of a kitchen was once a hall closet. But despite its small scale, the quiet, warm-toned cabinet fronts, discreet appliances and unique details make it a gem at the heart of Theresa's home.

WHAT MAKES IT WORK: The petite U shape feels larger thanks to the contrast of light and dark materials: cherrywood cabinets and Statuario marble counters and backsplash that extends right up to the ceiling. Even the window frame matches the millwork. Brass edging on the lower drawers creates an uninterrupted line around the entire kitchen, and a crystal and brass chandelier adds visual interest without blocking the view.

Ingredients are tucked onto upper shelves, leaving room for art at counter level

Vintage accents like a silver teapot and horn cup are paired with modern art to lend charm in a corner. RIGHT: Though the kitchen has views of the back garden through the dining room, it can be closed off with a shoji screen-style panelled pocket door.
